VICTIMS NAMED.

Republicans Hold Their Primaries and Select Their Aldermen for the Different Wards.

Delegates and Alternates Chosen to Nominate a Ticket at the Republican Convention.

It Is Claimed That the Majority of th Delegates Favor T. P. Fuller for Mayor.

The republicans held their primaries last evening, and harmony, heavenly harmony, was piled up so high that the men in getting to the polling places had to climb over it. Aldermen were nominated in every ward, but it is said to be doubtful whether some of the nominees will accept. So fearful were the patriots in the first ward delegation that Mr. Tatem would not accept that a committee was sent to interview him, but he was not found. He may have been conveniently absent. It is claimed that the delegates selected are Fuller men, or that at least two-thirds of them are, and that T. P. will be nominated on the first ballot. The fight in all the wards seems to have been for the treasuryship, and it is claimed that either Douglass or Humbert will be selected as the man to take care of the city funds for the next year.

There was considerable squabbling in most of the wards, but results were reached at last.

FIRST WARD.

The First-warders cougregated at the city hall, and there were a number of men of influence in the party. The only question of importance raised was the name of the man to put up as a sacrifice for aldermon, and after a careful canvass B. H. Tatem was selected as the man. The following are the delegates and alternates:

Delegates—Joe Horsky, Benjamin Benson, J. Stuart, Gust Mahrt, Con Rice, B. H. Tatem, Joe Flick, Jack Adams, Henry Tilton, O. C. Bundy.

Alternates—Emil Kluge. John Miller. G. A. Oleson, Jake Adams, Bill Lorey, Geo. Curtiss, E. Polde, H. Summerfield, A. H. Hay, J. Grandrod.

SECOND WARD.

There was quite a large assemblage at the hose house opposite the court house. Judge Hedges was elected chairman and James B. Walker secretary. Quite a number were present who wanted to be aldermen, but it was evident that the voters did not care for aspirations but wanted to get through the work as soon as possible. After numerous motions it was decided to allow those present to vote for twenty names, the ten receiving the highest number of votes to be the delegates and the other ten to be the alternates, with the following result:

other ten to be the alternates, with the following result:

Delegates—M. Rockman, J. W. Hathaway, H. M. Parchen, Herman Richter, T. C. Power, C. Hedges, C. P. Van Wort, J. B. Walker, D. W. Fisk, H. H. Davis.

Alternates—E. W. Beattie, E. L. Kellogg, Aaron Hershfield, Dell Dick, R. L. Calkins, R. Hillman, E. D. Weed, W. G. Bailey, H. B. Palmer, Henry Cannon.

N. H. Webster was chosen for alderman.

THIRD WARD.

The residents of the third ward agreed so readily that their work was soon accomplished. In fact, they were not in session half an hour, as everything was cut and dried. L. W. Spencer was nominated for alderman. The delegates to the convention are all Fuller men. They are:

Delegates—Joseph Gans, J. S. Featherly, B. F. Woodman, Jacob Switzer, Charles Banks, F. N. McIntyre, D. B. Carpenter, W. C. Pardillon, G. O. Freeman, L. W. Spencer. THIRD WARD.

Spencer.
Alternates—I. N. Adams, Sam Richardson, W. S. Norcross, J. W. Barker, A. S. Hoovey, H. Stevens, S. A. Balliet.

The result of the fourth ward primaries was a surprise to some of the elect. There were several candidates for aldermen, and there was considerable caucussing done at the school house where the election was held before any votes were cast. It is claimed that George Boos expected to get a good many votes for alderman, but he was not placed in nomination for that office, although he was nominated for delegate. J. P. Woolman presided and J. Hamburger acted as secretary. W. W. Brown was the unanimous choice for alderman. FOURTH WARD.

C. Botkin, W. N. Baldwin, A. K. Barbour,
D. H. Cuthbert, M. A. Meyendorff.

FIFTH WARD. The Fifth ward primaries were held in the west side school house, with Dr. C. K. Cole in the chair and John N. Heldt as sec-

Cole in the chair and John N. Heldt as secretary. A great deal of caucusing was done before anything else was accomplished, and it seemed for a time as it no alderman would be named, but finally E. C. Richards was nominated.

Delegates—F. L. King, George Breck, John Stedman, John Sturrock, T. H Clewell, Z. T. Burton, J. W. Kinsley, William Harrison, W. C. Whipps, J. H. Jurgens.

Alternates—Daniel Frazer. J. B. Sanford, F. D. Kelsey, R. W. Denoil, M. A. Witmer, J. J. Hiodson, W. S. Haskell George Voss, M. H. Keefe, C. M. Williams.

SIXTH WARD. The sixth ward is not composed entirely of railroad men, but railroaders run the ward. There was a contest over the office of alderman between H. C. Yaeger and F. Thieme. Yaeger was the choice of the people, but it is claimed that Thieme had the primaries loaded; as a result he received the nomination for Alderman.

Delegates—S. T. Porter, H. Carlton, A. McDonald, Thomas O'Connor, W. H. Cameron, H. C. Yaeger, W. M. Copenhaven, P. J. Perrine, Joseph Currah, W. E. Burnham.

Charles Wilson.

There was a large turn out at the east side school house and quite a struggle for the honors which were to be conferred. There were two factions, the Simonds and and anti-Simonds, and the Simo ds faction was worsted, Jas. S. Dunn capturing the aldermanic prize. The following delegates and alternates were selected:

Delegates—M. L. Stone, R. Lockey, R. A. Craig, R. Hoback, F. P. Sterling, A. J. Craven, Jas. S. Dunn, William Zastrow, A. O. Simonds, Robert Barnes.

Alternates—T. Wilcox, D. C. Ross, F. Adkinson, G. W. Gibbs, L. F. Evans, A. Kuntz, W. F. Wheeler, C. B. Newberry, James Crump, A. C. Votaw. SEVENTH WARD.

To the Ladies.

The majority of our magnificent selections of fine effects for every department of our house for the coming season have now arrived, and comprises the largest and exhibited in this city. From among the various weaves, representing the prevailing spring and summer fashions, we invite attention to our fine assortment of lovely siks, in Faille Francais, figured Indias, striped and plaid surahs, and many new colors and designs in pongee, Shanghai and China silks. We have the finest range of new designs in heavitful dress goods. and China silks. We have the finest range of new designs in beautiful dress goods effects ever shown in Helena, embracing imported Parisian combinations, Henriettas, beiges. French challies, etc., all in the newest colorings and combines. Our wash goods department is full of the very prettiest novelties in French and domestic satteens, ginghams, lawns, white goods, etc. Our superb collection of ladies spring wraps is very large and complete; among them can be seen many extreme novelties in Paris wraps, some beauties in beaded short wraps, ladies' London walking jackets and long traveling and street garments. In carpets, lace curtains and curtain drapery our large and fine assortment is unsurpassed. We assure our lady friends that a visit of inspection to our house now will richly repay them.

Dr. Wynne, the oculist, was asked yesterday regarding the condition of William Preston, the Northern Pacific conductor who was recently reported to have lost his sight after an operation for granulated eyelids. The patient, Dr. Wynne said, is doing well, and in all probability will entirely recover. He is not nor has he been at any time in danger of losing the use of his eyes, reports to the contrary being attributable to malice. The case is a remarkable one, in that it has probably resulted in a cure of a trouble—that of granulated eyelids with all its complications—of very long standing. ure to many.
